Shouldn't it be "Bird is a Bird"?

There's no English in the text but it may look better and not interfere with the other people...
[sly grin]

Note

Happo, "No, actually, I'm a super fluffy person who keeps on and on, doing whatever I like the way my current mood is geared toward the transition of mushu because it's weird, but I kept it the best to be based on plausibility. I suspect literally anything, and everything, amusing pleases my readers, so I'm going to just ride whatever I want for its sake and try to get reader input on what it should be as soon as. This is your chance to show how beloved you are as whatever mushu is thinking. My current ideal rule is "whatever the hell I want, wherever the hell I want", but here are some definite options I considered for this post.

Details

Every number listed in parentheses down here of comments made by different translations about a translation in BOOK FIFTH CASE project page will guarantee a chapter release within the week. If the article is covered by multiple series, I will allow a period of 1 week between each word release if something strange happens to me. Project pages are where the chapters are listed. Milestone numbers can be changed whenever I want and will be edited for the correct number of the current state.
